

OVERSEAS REMOVALS INSURANCE

Important Notice

We endeavor to undertake all overseas removals and storage in a thoroughly professional manner. The vast majority of our jobs pass without any difficulty and with the customer being entirely satisfied. This is something that we are very proud of. However, we are aware that things can occasionally go wrong, and it is therefore very important that we both know where we stand if items are lost or damaged.

Export and Import removals need to be covered under a specialist Marine Cargo policy. The premium will depend on the destination country to which the goods are being shipped and their value. You should insure the goods to their value in the destination country and you might also wish to insure the shipping fees, to cover the cost of sending replacements out if they are not available in that country. You will need to complete a declaration form which is available from our office. Please ring 0800 211 8030 for further information and advice.
